“Leading with a Servant’s Heart”

This is a workshop exploring the principles of Servant Leadership. Do you have what it takes to be a servant leader? Following the example of Jesus, a servant leader begins with a true desire to serve, as opposed to wanting power. The concept of servant leadership works with all kinds of organizations, from big corporations, to not-for-profit entities, churches, parishes, schools, and foundations. During the course of this workshop leaders will explore the four dimensions of leadership: the heart, the head, the hands, and habits through active learning projects.
